Motions

Shareholder commented:

Prince Housing & Development Corp. is a representative brand in the construction industry. Since its establishment, it has adhered to the principle of "Three Goods and One Fairness". Although it has adopted a conservative strategy due to the changes in the environment in recent years, it still hopes that the Company can motivate the team, improve performance and give full play to its brand advantages through effective management methods.

Chairman replied:

The Company has always adhered to the business philosophy of "Three Good and One Fair". In the face of current challenges such as changes in the population structure, shortage of construction labor and rising costs of building materials, in the future, we will gradually expand our service-oriented business model based on the existing construction foundation to improve the quality of housing and extend it to the overall service level of life.

The Company currently has no pressure on surplus inventory and owns land with development potential, such as approximately 20,000 square meters in Renwu, Kaohsiung and approximately 2,300 square meters in Tainan Phase 5. In the future, the Company will continue to inventory and revitalize assets to establish a more efficient development and management model.

Now is a good opportunity for organizational adjustment and a new start. The Company will actively seek a suitable management team, strengthen overall operational efficiency, and continue to create maximum value for shareholders.

Business Report

I. 2024 Business Report

The world's landscapes have experienced profound changes world - Trump's return to the White House has increased policy uncertainty. European countries, the US, and China have successively initiated interest rate cuts, affecting the global financial market. The global economic volatility caused by geopolitical conflicts continues, and the regional situation remains tense. The impact of China's economy and extreme weather has made the global economy potentially risky.

Taiwan's economy in 2024 was supported by emerging technologies such as AI, which will continue to drive the growth of exports and growth of information and communication products. However, the economy still faces the risk of geopolitical conflicts and the US-China technology dispute.

In terms of real estate, the central bank announced the seventh wave of credit control in Q3 2024, in response to the hot trend of "Preferential Mortgage Program Geared Toward Young Adults". This wave of stringent credit control policy has not been reflected in the annual transaction figures due to the market boom in the first half of 2024. However, a more noticeable impact will be expected in 2025.

We have taken advantages of the housing boom in 2024 to sell the remaining houses. Besides this, with our six main business segments: core construction, BOT projects, construction, property management, hotel operations, and re-investment. Based on the foundation built in 2023, we will continue to introduce more integrated and innovative elements based on the core concept of "building a commercial platform with real estate as the main body."

In terms of core construction: Through the selection of a cooperative team, more innovative architectural ideas are introduced; in terms of BOT projects: Connect with more authorities and units to expand the investment evaluation scope and increase the possibility of cooperation; in terms of construction: Through business integration and connection with the group partners, participate in the construction projects in the logistics parks, expand the renovation services in the urban renewal projects, and continue to improve the multi-dimensional engineering service capabilities; in terms of property management: Integrate the Group's internal and external resources to create a community service integrated platform, and aim to achieve the goal of high value-added property management; in terms of hotel operations: The hardware architectural equipment is renewed, combined with innovative software arts and literature services, to achieve outstanding results in domestic and overseas hotel and accommodation markets; in terms of the re-investment, the Company continues to support its operations, in order to ensure the steady growth of the re-investment business, which is also the goal of PHDC. The different businesses, with their own plans and blueprints, are moving towards the same direction, laying a solid foundation for the positioning of PHDC.

In 2024, the amount of annual revenue and net income was NT$1.064 billion and NT$313 million respectively, and the amount of consolidated revenue and consolidated net income was NT$8.479 billion and NT$284 million respectively.

II. Summary of the 2025 Business Plan

Looking ahead to 2025, the global environment is full of various unstable factors, from the change of the policy direction of the U.S. to the geopolitical conflicts, the world continues to undergo severe changes. In Taiwan's real estate market, the stringent credit control policy will have an impact on the market, and it is expected to show signs in 2025.

In 2025, the Company will integrate resources and continue to innovate, and pursue a higher performance management system for its six main business segments, including more timely communication and more close cooperation. Given the limited resources available in each business segment, the Company will create better synergies and return better revenues.

III. Future Development Strategy

At PHDC, we have been adhering to the business philosophy of “3Gs and 1F - good location, good design, good construction, and fair price” for more than five decades. With this being our unchanged core value, we have a stable standard of value judgment even in the fast-changing modern business environment. Over five decades of experience has taught us that the key to the survival in the industry lies in the ability to adapt to changes with the core value maintained unchanged. Only by adhering to the unchanged core values can we guide the development of new business models and innovative decision-making, and continue to pursue excellence!

In the next 50 years, the Prince will continue to uphold the original intention of “3Gs and 1F”, and keep pace with the times. From corporate governance to sustainable development, while taking into account the environment and stakeholders, the Company will strive to promote more oriented and efficient business models through integration and innovation. By doing this, we aim to become a unique and comprehensive real estate developer in the market!

Prince Housing & Development Corp.
Audit Report by the Audit Committee

This is to approve that

The Board of Directors have prepared and submitted the 2024 Annual Business Report, 2024 Financial Statements and 2024 Proposal for Profit Distribution. The 2024 Annual Financial Statements have been approved by PwC Taiwan's certified public accountant Chien-Chih Wu and Jun-Kai Wang who have also issued an audit report. After auditing the aforementioned Business Report, Financial Statements, and Proposal for Earnings Distribution, this Committee found no issues of non-compliance and thus issued this report in accordance with Article 14-4 of the Securities and Exchange Act and Article 219 of the Company Act.

The 2025 Annual General Meeting of Shareholders of Prince Housing & Development Corp.

Prince Housing & Development Corp.

Audit Committee Chairman Tse-Hsiang Ting

May 7, 2025

CPA Audit Report

(2025) Cai-Shen-Bao-Zi No. 24005133

Prince Housing and Development Corp.:

Audit Opinion

Prince Housing and Development Corporation and its subsidiaries' (hereinafter referred to as "Prince Housing Group") consolidated balance sheet as of December 31 of 2024 and 2023, and the consolidated statement of comprehensive income for the period from January 1 to December 31 of 2024 and 2023, the consolidated statement of changes in equity, the consolidated cash flow statement and notes to the consolidated financial statements (including the summary of major accounting policies) are reviewed by PwC Taiwan's certified public accountants.

In our opinion, with respect to our audit results and the reports (please refer to the Others section) of other independent accountants, the important issues in the said consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and that the international financial reporting standards, international accounting standards, interpretations and preparation of interpretation announcements are able to fairly disclose the consolidated financial position of Prince Housing and Development Corp. as of December 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023, and its consolidated financial performance and cash flows of Prince Housing and Development Corp. during January 1-December 31, 2024 and January 1-December 31, 2023.

Basis of Audit

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and the Generally Accepted Auditing Principles of the Republic of China. Under these standards, it is the accountants' responsibility to further explain the accountability of the accountants on auditing the consolidated financial statements. In accordance with the independent requirements of the firm, we have required staff to maintained independence from Prince Housing and Development Corporation and carried out their duties with respect to The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China. We believe that our audits and the reports of other auditors provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

Key Audit Items

“Key Audit Items” refers to the professional judgement of auditing the most important items in the 2024 Consolidated Financial Statements of the Group. While such items have been addressed when auditing the overall consolidated financial statements and the formation opinions, we will not express opinions on any particular items.

The key audit items of the Group’s 2024 consolidated financial statements are as follows:

Recognition of revenues from construction projects—Assessment of completion schedule

Description

Please refer to items (31) in Note 4 and (2) 5 of the Consolidated Financial Statements for the accounting policy for construction agreement and revenue recognition and items (24) in Note 6 of the Consolidated Financial Statements for the description of accounting items. The 2024 revenue from construction projects of the Prince Housing Group was NT$4,540,909 thousand, commanding 53.55% of the consolidated revenue.

The revenues of the construction service offered by the Group are recognized according to the status of completion during the contract period. The status of completion has been calculated according to the percentage in the estimated total construction cost of the incurred cost by the closing date of financial report period of each project. The estimated total construction cost is based on the cost breakdown sheet produced according to the owner’s master design drawings and in consideration of increase or decrease of construction quantity resulted from an engineering change and the construction price and cost indices to estimate the costs invested in an outsourced contract, including labor and materials.

Due to the complexity of items for estimating the said total costs and frequent subjective judgments, high uncertainties are common, and the estimation of the total cost will affect the status of completion and the recognition of revenue from construction. Hence, we have set the estimation of the status of completion as the important items for auditing the Group’s revenue from construction.

Responsive Audit Procedures

In response to the said key audit items, we have implemented the following responsive procedures:

1. To discern the nature of operations and industry of the Group; assess the fairness of the internal operating procedures for estimating the total construction cost, including the procedures for determining the labor and material costs of individual project items; and examine the consistency of the estimation method.
2. To assess and test the internal control procedures affecting the change in the estimation of the total cost, including cross-examining the evidence regarding the increase or decrease of project items and important project estimates.
3. To interview supervisors and other appropriate staff for projects still under progress during the interview.
4. To obtain the profit and loss statement to implement related empirical procedures, including spot check of costs incurred in the period with the appropriate receipts (vouchers), spot check of the increase or decrease of project items with related evidence, and re-check of the percentage of project completion.

Others: Audits of other accountants

The financial reports of some investments accounted for under the equity method included in the Group's Consolidated Financial Statement were audited by other accountants. Hence, the opinions we expressed in the said Consolidated Financial Statement for the amounts listed in the financial statements of such companies has been made in accordance with the audit reports of other accountants. The total amount of the said assets (including investments accounted for under the equity method) ended December 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023 was NT$618,804 thousand and NT$605,697 thousand, accounting for 1.33% and 1.31% of the total amount of consolidated assets, respectively. The net revenue of 2024 and 2023 was NT$42,361 thousand and NT$44,019 thousand, accounting for 7.07% and 5.46% of the total amount of consolidated net revenue, respectively.

Other matters – Parent Company Only financial reports

The Group has produced the Parent Company Only financial statements for 2024 and 2023. The reports have been audited and by CPAs with unqualified opinion and is on record.

Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements of the Management and Governance Units

It is management's responsibility to produce fairly expressed consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, international financial reporting standards, international accounting standards, interpretations, and interpretations recognized and presented for validation to the Financial Supervisory Commission and to maintain the necessary internal controls relating to the production of such consolidated financial statements in order to ensure that no significant, untrue expressions as a result of corruption or errors are found in the consolidated financial statements.

When producing consolidated financial statements, it is also the management's responsibility to assess the Group's capacity to maintain business continuity, disclosure of related information, and choice of accounting basis for business continuity, except when the Group intends to liquidate or shut down operations, or there is no other feasible alternative other than liquidation or closure.

It is the responsibility of the Group's governance units (including the Audit Committee) to supervise the workflow of financial reporting.

Accountant's responsibility for auditing consolidated financial statements

It is our responsibility to audit the Group's consolidated financial statements to provide reasonable assurance in an audit report that no significant, untrue expression as a result of corruption or errors is found in such consolidated financial statements. "Reasonable Assurance" refers to high assurance. However, the detection of significant, untrue expressions in the consolidated financial statements is not guaranteed when audits are implemented based on the Generally Accepted Auditing Principles of the Republic of China. Untrue expression as a result of corruption or errors Untrue expressions of individual amounts or sums are significant when they can reasonably affect the economic policy made by the users off consolidated financial statements.

When auditing based on the Generally Accepted Auditing Principles of the Republic of China, we have applied professional judgments and maintained professional doubts. Other tasks of accountants:

1. To identify and assess significant, untrue expressions of risks as a result of corruption or errors in consolidated financial statements; to plan and implement appropriate countermeasures for the risks assessed; and obtain adequate and appropriate audit evidence as the basis for making audit expressions. While corruption may involve collusions, forgeries, willful omissions, untrue declarations, or overstep of internal controls, it is not detected that the risk caused by significant, untrue expressions as a result of corruption is higher than that of errors.
2. To understand internal controls required for audits in order to design audit procedures appropriate to the situation of audit, provided that such an understanding does not intend to express opinions on the effectiveness of the Group's internal controls.
3. To assess the suitability of the accounting policy adopted by the management and the fairness of its accounting estimation and related disclosures.
4. To conclude if there are significant uncertainties regarding the suitability of the accounting basis adopted by the management to maintain business continuity and the potential significant doubtful incidents or situations within the Group's capacity to maintain business continuity based on the obtained audit evidence. After determining that there are significant uncertainties in such incidents or situations, we shall remind in the audit report the users of such consolidated financial statements to pay attention to related disclosures in such consolidated financial statements, or shall we express a modified opinion where such disclosures are inappropriate. We have made conclusions based on the audit basis obtained by the audit report date. However, future incidents or situations may incapacitate the Group from business continuity.
5. To assess the overall expression, structure and contents of consolidated financial statements (including related notes) and the fair expression of related transactions and incidents in such consolidated financial statements.

6. To gather adequate and suitable audit evidence of the financial information of Parent Company Onlys within the Group to express opinions on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible to instruct, supervise and implement the audit of the Group and conclude the audit opinions on the Group.

We have communicated the government units on items including the scope and time planned for the audit and important audit findings (including the significant defects identified through internal control during the audit).

We have also provided the governance units with the statement of independence of our staff made in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China. We have also communicated with the governance units on the relations and other items (including related protective measures) that may affect the independence of accountants.

We have determined the Group's 2024 Consolidated Financial Statements' key audit items based on the communication items with the governance units. We have also specified in the audit report that we will not communicate specific items in the audit report when there are reasons to believe that such communication may cause negative impacts more than positive public interest, except for specific items not allowed for disclosures by law or under extremely rare circumstances.

Basis of Audit

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and the Generally Accepted Auditing Principles of the Republic of China. Under these standards, the accountants are responsible to further explain the accountability of the accountants on auditing the consolidated financial statements. In accordance with the independence requirements of the firm, we have required staff to maintained independence from Prince Housing and Development Corp. and carried out their duties with respect to The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China. We believe that our audits and the reports of other auditors provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

Key Audit Items

Key audit items refer to the professional judgment of auditing the most important items in the 2024 Parent Company Only Financial Statements of Prince Housing and Development Corp. While such items have been addressed when auditing the overall Parent Company Only financial statements and the formation opinions, we will not express opinions on any particular items.

The key audit items of the 2024 Parent Company Only financial statements of Prince Housing and Development Corp. are as follows:

Investments accounted for under the equity method: The income from construction projects is recognized by assessing the percentage of completion of projects undertaken by Engineering Corporation, a subsidiary in possession of subsidiary Cheng-Shi Investment Holdings Co., Ltd.

Description

Please refer to item (14) of Note 4 of the Parent Company Only Financial Statements for the accounting policy of investments accounted for under the equity method and item (7) of Note 6 for the description of accounting items.

The revenue of the construction service offered by subsidiary in possession of subsidiary Cheng-Shi Investment Holdings Co., Ltd., a subsidiary of Prince Housing and Development Corp., is recognized according to the status of completion during the contract period. The status of completion has been calculated according to the percentage in the estimated total construction cost of the incurred cost by the closing date of financial report period of each project. The estimated total construction cost is based on the cost breakdown sheet produced according to the owner's master design drawings and in consideration of increase or decrease of construction quantity resulted from an engineering change and the construction price and cost indices to estimate the costs invested in an outsourced contract, including labor and materials.

Due to the complexity of items for estimating the said total costs and frequent subjective judgments, high uncertainties are common, and the estimation of the total cost will affect the status of completion and the recognition of revenue from construction. Hence, we have set the estimation of the status of completion as one of the important items for auditing the subsidiary's revenue from construction.

Responsive Audit Procedures

In response to the said key audit items, we have implemented the following responsive procedures:

1. To discern the nature of operations and industry of the subsidiary; assess the fairness of the internal operating procedures for estimating the total construction cost, including the procedures for determining the labor and material costs of individual project items; and examine the consistency of the estimation method.
2. To assess and test the subsidiary's internal control procedures affecting the change in the estimation of the total cost, including cross-examining the evidence regarding the increase or decrease of project items and important project estimates.

3. Together with the subsidiary's supervisors and other appropriate staff to conduct on-site inspections for the projects still under progress.
4. To obtain the subsidiary's profit and loss statement to implement related empirical procedures, including spot check of costs incurred in the period with the appropriate receipts (vouchers), spot check of the increase or decrease of project items with related evidence, and re-check of the percentage of project completion.

Others: Audits of other accountants

The financial reports of investments accounted for under the equity method included in the Parent Company Only Financial Statement of Prince Housing and Development Corp. not audited by this firm were audited by other accountants. Hence, the opinion we express in the said Parent Company Only Financial Statement for the amounts listed in the financial statements of such companies has been made in accordance with the audit reports of other accountants. The total amount of the said investments accounted for under the equity method for years ended December 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023 was NT$771,984 thousand and NT$758,877 thousand, accounting for 2.27% and 2.26% of the total amount of Parent Company Only assets respectively. The comprehensive profit and loss recognized by the same company in 2024 and 2023 was NT$42,361 thousand and NT$44,019 thousand, accounting for 6.75% and 5.41% of the total amount of comprehensive income, respectively.

Responsibility for the Parent Company Only Financial Statements of the Management and Governance Units

It is the management's responsibility to produce fairly expressed Parent Company Only financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and to maintain the necessary internal controls related to the production of such Parent Company Only financial statements in order to ensure that no significant, untrue expression as a result of corruption or errors is found in Parent Company Only financial statements.

When producing Parent Company Only financial statements, it is also the management's responsibility to assess the capacity to maintain business continuity, disclosure of related information, and choice of accounting basis for business continuity of Prince Housing and Development Corp., except when Prince Housing and Development Corp. intends to liquidate or shut down operations, or there is no other feasible alternative other than liquidation or closure.

It is the responsibility of the governance units (including the Audit Committee) of Prince Housing and Development Corp. to supervise the workflow of financial reporting.

Accountant's responsibility for auditing Parent Company Only financial statements

It is our responsibility to audit the Parent Company Only financial statements of Prince Housing and Development Corp. to provide reasonable assurance in an audit report that no significant, untrue expression as a result of corruption or errors is found in such Parent Company Only financial statements. "Reasonable Assurance" refers to high assurance. However, the detection of significant, untrue expressions in the parent company only financial statements is not guaranteed when audits are implemented based on the Generally Accepted Auditing Principles of the Republic of China. Untrue expression as a result of corruption or errors Untrue expressions of Parent Company Only amounts or sums are significant when they can reasonably affect the economic policy made by the users off consolidated financial statements.

When auditing based on the Generally Accepted Auditing Principles of the Republic of China, we have applied professional judgments and maintained professional doubts. Other tasks of accountants:

1. To identify and assess significant, untrue expressions of risks as a result of corruption or errors in Parent Company Only financial statements; to plan and implement appropriate countermeasures for the risks assessed; and obtain adequate and appropriate audit evidence as the basis for making audit expressions. While corruption may involve collusions, forgeries, willful omissions, untrue declarations, or overstep of internal controls, it is not detected that the risk caused by significant, untrue expressions as a result of corruption is higher than that of errors.
2. To understand internal controls required for audits in order to design audit procedures appropriate to the situation of audit, provided that such an understanding does not intend to express opinions on the effectiveness of the internal controls of Prince Housing and Development Corp..
3. To assess the suitability of the accounting policy adopted by the management and the fairness of its accounting estimation and related disclosures.
4. To conclude if there are significant uncertainties regarding the suitability of the accounting basis adopted by the management to maintain business continuity and the potential significant doubtful incidents or situations within the capacity to maintain business continuity of Prince Housing and Development Corp. based on the obtained audit evidence. After determining that there are significant uncertainties in such incidents or situations, we shall remind in the audit report the users of such Parent Company Only financial statements to pay attention to related disclosures in such Parent Company Only financial statements, or shall we express a modified opinion where such disclosures are inappropriate. We have made conclusions based on the audit basis obtained by the audit report date. However, future incidents or situations may incapacitate Prince Housing and Development Corp. from business continuity.
5. To assess the overall expression, structure and contents of Parent Company Only financial statements (including related note) and the fair expression of related transactions and incidents in such Parent Company Only financial statements.

6. To gather adequate and suitable audit evidence of the financial information of Parent Company Onlys within Prince Housing and Development Corp. to express opinions on the Parent Company Only financial statements. We are responsible to instruct, supervise and implement the audit of Prince Housing and Development Corp. and conclude the audit opinions on the company.

We have communicated the government units on items including the scope and time planned for the audit and important audit findings (including the significant defects identified through internal control during the audit).

We have also provided the governance units with the statement of independence of our staff made in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China. We have also communicated with the governance units on the relations and other items (including related protective measures) that may affect the independence of accountants.

We have determined the key audit items of the 2024 Parent Company Only Financial Statements of Prince Housing and Development Corp. based on the communication items with the governance units. We have also specified in the audit report that we will not communicate specific items in the audit report when there are reasons to believe that such communication may cause negative impacts more than positive public interest, except for specific items not allowed for disclosures by law or under extremely rare circumstances.

Prince Housing and Development Corp. Rules of Procedure for Shareholders Meetings

Article 1. To establish a strong governance system and sound supervisory capabilities for the meeting of shareholders of this Corporation, and to strengthen management capabilities, these Rules are adopted pursuant to Article 5 of the Corporate Governance Best-Practice Principles for TWSE/TPEX Listed Companies.

Article 2. The rules of procedures for the meeting of shareholders of this Corporation, except as otherwise provided by law, regulation, or the articles of incorporation, shall be as provided in these Rules.

Article 3. Unless the laws and regulations otherwise require, the meeting of shareholders of this Corporation shall be convened by the Board of Directors.

This Corporation shall prepare an electronic version of the notice of meeting of shareholders and the proxy form, and the origins of and explanatory materials relating to all proposals, including proposals for ratification, matters for deliberation, or the election or dismissal of Directors, and upload them to the Market Observation Post System (MOPS) 30 days before the date of an annual general meeting of shareholders (AGM) or 15 days before the date of a provisional meeting of shareholders. This Corporation shall prepare an electronic version of the handbook of meeting of shareholders and supplemental meeting materials and upload them to MOPS 21 days before the date of the AGM or 15 days before the date of a provisional meeting of shareholders. In addition, 15 days before the date of the shareholders meeting, this Corporation shall prepare the handbook of a meeting of shareholders and supplemental meeting materials and made them available for review by shareholders at any time. The meeting handbook and supplemental materials shall also be displayed at this Corporation and the professional shareholder services agent designated thereby as well as being distributed on-site at the meeting place.

The reasons for convening a meeting of shareholders shall be specified in the meeting notice and public announcement. With the consent of the addressee, such can be made electronically.

Election or dismissal of Directors, amendments to the articles of incorporation, reduction of capital, application for the approval of ceasing its status as a public company, approval of competing with the company by Directors, surplus profit distributed in the form of new shares, reserve distributed in the form of new shares, the dissolution, merger, or spin-off of the corporation or any matter under paragraph 1, Article 185, of the Company Act, Articles 26-1 and 43-6 of the Securities and Exchange Act, or Articles 56-1 and 60-2 of the Regulations Governing the Offering and Issuance of Securities by Securities Issuers shall be listed and essential description shall be stated in the reasons for convening column of the notice of shareholders' meeting. None of the above matters may be raised by an extraordinary motion.

Where re-election of all Directors as well as their inauguration date is stated in the notice of the reasons for convening the shareholders' meeting, after the completion of the re-election in said meeting, such inauguration date may not be altered by any extraordinary motion or otherwise in the same meeting.

A shareholder holding 1% or more of the total number of issued shares may make one proposal to this Company for discussion at the AGM. No other proposals will be included in the meeting agenda. In addition, when the circumstances of any subparagraph of Article 172-1, paragraph 4 of the Company Act apply to a proposal put forward by a shareholder, the Board of Directors may exclude it from the agenda. Prior to the final date of the stock transfer before an AGM is held, this Company shall announce the acceptance of the shareholder's proposal, the accepted formats (written or electronic) of proposals, and the place and period of acceptance for a minimum of 10 days.

Each proposal submitted by shareholders shall not exceed 300 words. Proposals longer than 300 words will not be listed in the handbook for discussion. Shareholders making proposals shall be present in person or represented by a proxy at the general meeting of shareholders and take part in proposal discussion.

Prior to the date of issuance of a meeting notice, this Corporation shall inform shareholders who have submitted proposals of the results of proposal processing and shall list in the meeting notice proposals conforming with the provisions of this article. At the meeting of shareholders, the Board of Directors shall explain the exclusion of any shareholder proposals in the handbook.

Article 4. Shareholders may appoint a proxy to represent them in a meeting by submitting the proxy form issued by this Corporation and by stating the scope of authorization for the proxy.

Each shareholder shall deliver to this Corporation one proxy form for one proxy only five days prior to a meeting of shareholders. When more than one proxy forms are received, only the earliest one will be accepted, except with a declaration to relieve the previous proxy.

After a proxy form is delivered to this Corporation, should a shareholder intend to attend the meeting in person or to exercise its voting rights by correspondence or electronically, a written notice of proxy cancellation shall be submitted to this Corporation 2 business days before the meeting date. Should the cancellation notice be delivered after that time, votes cast at the meeting by the proxy shall prevail.

Article 5. A meeting of shareholders shall be held in the region where this Corporation is located or a venue that can be easily accessed by shareholders and suitable for a meeting of shareholders. The meeting shall be held between 9:00 am and 3:00 pm. Full consideration shall be given to the opinions expressed by Independent Directors with respect to the place and time of the meeting.

Article 6. This Corporation shall specify in meeting notice the check in time, registration location and related notices to inform shareholders.

The said shareholder check in time shall begin at least 30 minutes before the meeting commences. The registration shall be readily identified, and sufficient competent staff shall be assigned to process shareholder registration.

Shareholders or their proxies (collectively called "shareholders") shall attend the meeting of shareholders with an admission pass, check-in pass, or other admission documents. Under no circumstances shall this Corporation arbitrarily add requirements for other documents grating admission to a meeting of shareholders. Those recruiting proxy forms shall also bring their identity cards for verification.

This Corporation shall furnish a registry for shareholders check in or shareholders the meeting may hand in a check-in card to substitute check-in procedure.

This Corporation shall provide a AGM handbook, annual report, admission pass, speech note, vote, and other meeting materials for shareholders attending AGM, and a ballot for election, if any.

When the government or an institution is a shareholder, it may be represented by more than one representative at a meeting of shareholders. When an institution is appointed to attend the meeting as a proxy, it may designate only one person to represent it in the meeting.

Article 7. If a meeting of shareholders is convened by the Board of Directors, the meeting shall be chaired by the chairperson of the board. Should the chairperson of the board be on leave or unable to exercise the powers of a chairperson for whatever reasons, the vice chairperson shall take its place to chair the meeting. Should there be no vice chairperson or the vice chairperson be on leave or unable to exercise the powers of a chairperson for whatever reasons, the chairperson shall appoint a managing director represent him/her or a director shall be when there is no managing director. Should no representative is appointed by the chairperson, managing Directors or Directors may elect one of them chair the meeting.

When a managing director or director is assigned to chair a meeting of shareholders, this managing director or director must have worked at this Corporation for a minimum of six months and must understand the financial status of this Corporation. The same shall apply to an institutional representative.

It is advisable that a meeting of shareholders convened by the Board of Directors shall be chaired by the chairperson of the board in person and attended by majority Directors and at least one member of each functional committee. Their attendances shall be recorded in the meeting minutes.

If a meeting of shareholders is convened by a party with convening power other than the Board of Directors, the convening party shall chair the meeting. When there are two or more such convening parties, they shall select a chair from among themselves.

This Corporation may appoint its attorneys at law, certified public accountants, or related staff to attend a meeting of shareholders.

Article 8. This Corporation shall maintain a full video and audio recordings of the meeting starting from the check-in and registration, during the meeting and the election.

The said audiovisual data shall be retained for at least one year. Should a law suit be filed according to Article 189 of the Company Act, the said audiovisual data shall be retained until the end of the suit.

Article 9. Attendance of the meeting of shareholders shall be calculated based on numbers of shares. The number of shares for voting in writing or electronically shall be calculated based on shares shown in the check-in register or the check-in pass.

The chair shall call the meeting to order at the appointed meeting time and announce the information covering the number of shares without voting rights and the number of shares present at the meeting.

However, when the shareholders in attendance do not represent over half of the total number of issued shares, the chair may announce a postponement, provided that not more than two such postponements are allowed, and the total length of postponements shall not exceed one hour. If the quorum does is not met after two postponements and the shareholders in attendance still represent less than one third of the total number of issued shares, the chair shall adjourn the meeting.

If the quorum is not met after two postponements mentioned in the preceding paragraph, but the number of shares represented by shareholders in attendance commands at one third or more of the total number of issued shares, a tentative resolution may be adopted in accordance with paragraph 1, Article 175, of the Company Act. All shareholders shall be notified of the tentative resolution and another meeting of shareholders shall be convened within one month.

Should the number of shareholders in attendance represent over half of the total number of issued shares, the chair may resubmit the tentative resolution for voting at the meeting of shareholders according to Article 174 of the Company Act.

Article 10. The board of directors shall plan the agenda for the meetings of shareholders it convenes, vote for each proposal (including motions and amendments to the original proposals), shall proceed with such meetings as planned. Under no circumstances shall the board of directors alter the agenda without the resolution of the shareholders' meeting.

The provisions in the preceding paragraph shall apply mutatis mutandis to meetings of shareholders convened by parties other than the Board of Directors.

Unless a resolution is otherwise made, under no circumstances shall the chairperson adjourn a meeting of shareholders without going through the entire agenda (including extraordinary motions). Should the chairperson violate this rule, other board members shall assist shareholders in attendance to immediately elect a new chairperson with their majority consent according to the statutory procedures.

A meeting chair shall grant ample opportunities for the full explanation and discussion of proposals and amendments or extraordinary motions put forward by the shareholders. The meeting chair may end the discussion and call for a vote of sufficiently discussed proposals and arrange sufficient time for voting.

Article 11. Before making a comment, a shareholder present at the meeting shall state in the comment slip the subject matter of the comment, the shareholder's account number (or admission pass number), and account name. The meeting chair shall determine the order of comment.

A shareholder in attendance who does not speak after submitting a speaker's slip is considered as silent. Should the content of a speech does not correspond to the subject matter in the speaker's slip, the speech content shall prevail.

Except with the consent of the chairperson, a shareholder shall speak more than twice in the same proposal, and each speech shall not exceed five minutes. Should a shareholder make a speech in violation of related rules or irrelevant to the subject matter, the chairperson may request such a shareholder to terminate the speech.

Except with the approval of the chairperson or the speaking shareholder, under no circumstances shall other shareholders interrupt the speech of a shareholder at the meeting.

When an institutional shareholder appoints two or more representatives to attend a meeting of shareholders, only one of such representatives may speak for the same proposal.

After a shareholder finishes a speech, the chairperson may personally or direct relevant staff to respond to such a speech.

Article 12. Voting at a shareholders' meeting shall be calculated based the number of shares. With respect to the resolutions made by the meeting of shareholders, the stake of a shareholder with no voting rights shall not be calculated as part of the total number of issued shares.

Should a shareholder be a stakeholder of a handbook item and should such a relationship prejudice the interest of this Corporation, that shareholder shall neither vote on that item nor exercise the voting rights as proxy for any other shareholders. The number of shares not allowed for excising the voting rights according to the preceding paragraph will not be considered in the voting shares of shareholders in attendance.

Except for a trust enterprise or a shareholder services agent approved by the securities competent authority, when a person is concurrently appointed as proxy by two or more shareholders, the voting rights represented by such a proxy shall not exceed 3% of the voting rights represented by the total number of issued shares, and the percentage of voting rights exceeding such a limit will not be considered.

Article 13. Each shareholder is entitled to one vote for each share held, except for restricted shares or non-voting shares under Article 179, paragraph 2, of the Company Act. When holding a meeting of shareholders, this Corporation may allow shareholders to exercise voting rights by correspondence or electronically, provided that the methods of voting shall be specified in the meeting notice. When exercising voting rights by correspondence or electronically, a shareholder shall be deemed as present in the meeting personally. However, such a shareholder shall be considered as a waiver when voting for extraordinary motions and amendments to original proposals. It is therefore advisable that this Corporation shall avoid extraordinary motions and amendments to original proposals at the meeting.

A shareholder intending to exercise voting rights by correspondence or electronically under the preceding paragraph shall deliver a written declaration of intent to this Corporation two days before the date of the meeting of shareholders. When repeat declarations of intent are delivered, the one received earliest shall prevail, except for a declaration made to revoke the previous declaration of intent.

A shareholder wishing to attend a meeting of shareholders after exercising voting rights by correspondence or electronically shall deliver a notice to retract the said voting rights made with the same method as exercising the voting rights in writing two business days before the date of the meeting of shareholders. The voting rights exercised by correspondence or electronically shall prevail for failure to make retraction by the said deadline. When a shareholder exercises voting rights both by correspondence or electronically and by appointing a proxy to attend a meeting of shareholders, the voting rights exercised by the proxy in the meeting shall prevail. Except the Company Act and the articles of incorporation of this Corporation otherwise require, a proposal shall be passed by an affirmative vote of a majority of the voting rights represented by the attending shareholders. At the time of a vote, the chairperson or staff the chairperson designates shall first announce the total number of voting rights represented by the attending shareholders of each proposal before allowing for shareholders to vote. The outcomes of voting, including the number of votes in favor and against, and the number of abstentions shall be posted on MOPS on the same day after the meeting is adjourned.

When there is an amendment or an alternative to a proposal, the chairperson shall present the amended or alternative proposal together with the original proposal and decide the order in which they will be put to a vote. When any one among them is passed, the other proposals will then be deemed rejected, and no further voting shall be required.

The chairperson shall appoint staff to supervise and count the votes if a proposal, provided that the appointed person shall be a shareholder of this Corporation.

Vote counting for proposals or elections in a meeting of shareholders shall be conducted in a common area of the meeting venue. The outcomes, including the statistical tallies of the numbers of votes shall be announced immediately after counting is completed, and records shall be maintained.

Article 14. Directorial elections shall be implemented in accordance with the related election and appointment rules established by this Company, and the voting results shall be announced on-site immediately, including the list of directors elect and the number of votes with which they were elected, and the list of directors not elected and the number of votes they acquired.

The ballots for the election referred to in the preceding paragraph shall be sealed with the signatures of the supervising person and retained properly for at least one year. Should a law suit be filed according to Article 189 of the Company Act, the said audiovisual data shall be retained until the end of the suit.

Article 15. Resolutions made by the shareholders' meeting shall be maintained in the meeting minutes. The meeting minutes shall be signed or sealed by the chairperson of the meeting and a copy distributed to each shareholder within 20 days after meeting adjournment. The meeting minutes may be produced and distributed electronically. This Corporation may distribute the meeting minutes mentioned in the preceding paragraph positing it on MOPS.

The meeting minutes shall contain the accurate year, month, day, and place of the meeting, the full name of the chairperson, the methods by which resolutions were made, a summary of the deliberations and their results, and the results of voting (including the number of voting rights). If there is a directorial election, the number of votes of each candidate shall be disclosed. Meeting minutes shall be retained permanently during the Company's existence.

Article 16. On the day of the meeting of shareholders, this Company shall produce in the prescribed format of the statistics on the number of shares obtained by solicitors through solicitation and the number of shares represented by proxies, and shall make an express disclosure of the same at the venue of the meeting of shareholders. If matters put to a resolution at a meeting of shareholders constitute material information under applicable laws or regulations or under the regulations specified by Taiwan Stock Exchange Corporation, this Corporation shall upload the content of such resolution to MOPS by the deadline.

Article 17. Staff handling the administrative affairs of a shareholders' meeting shall wear an identification card or an armband.

The chair may direct proctors or security guards to help maintain order at the meeting place. When maintaining order at the meeting place, proctors or security guards shall wear an identification card or armband bearing the word "Proctor."

Should a shareholder attempt to speak through devices other than the public-address equipment prepared by this Company in a meeting, the chairperson may stop such a shareholder.

When a shareholder violates the rules of procedure and defies the chairperson's correction, obstructs the proceedings and refuses to heed calls to stop, the chairperson may direct proctors or security guards to escort that shareholder to leave the meeting.

Article 18. The chairperson may announce a break, where appropriate, in the middle of the meeting. The chairperson may also temporarily hold the meeting for force majeure or an act of God and resume the meeting wherever the situation allows.

Should the meeting venue be no longer available for continued use and not all items (including extraordinary motions) in the meeting handbook are addressed, the meeting of shareholders may adopt a resolution to continue the meeting at another venue. Shareholders may postpone or continue the meeting within five days through resolution in accordance with Article 182 of the Company Act.

Chapter 4. Board of Directors and Audit Committee

Article 17: The Board of Directors of this company consists of 9-18 Directors, including 4 Independent Directors. When the number of Directors is over 15, there will be no less than 5 Independent Directors. The candidate nomination system is adopted to elect competent shareholders. Each director holds a term of 3 years and is valid for re-election. The total number of shares held by all directors shall be handled in accordance with the regulations of the securities management authority. In a directorial election, each share is entitled to voting rights in number equal to the directors to be elected, and may be cast for a single candidate or split among multiple candidates. Those candidates receiving more voting rights shall be elected as directors.

The professional qualifications, stake, concurrent job limitation, nomination, election, and other matters relating to independent shareholders shall be subject to the related regulations of the securities competent authority.

The Board of Directors is authorized to determine the compensation, honorarium, and administrative expense of Directors with respect to their involvement in organizational operations and contributions and the standard in the business. However, Article 32 of the Company Act shall also apply to the compensation for Directors.

Article 18: The Board of Directors shall be formed by Directors. The chairperson is elected with the approval of over half of Directors in a board meeting attended by over two thirds of all Directors. The same method shall apply to elect a vice president. The chairperson represents this Company externally and administers the Company in the assistance of the vice chairperson in accordance with the related laws and regulations and the resolutions made by the meeting of shareholders. Should the chairperson be absent or unable to carry out his/her duties for some reasons, the proxy shall be appointed in accordance with the Company Act.

Article 19: The chairperson shall chair a board meeting. The chairperson who is absent with apologies or unable to carry out his or her duties for some reason shall appoint a proxy in accordance with Article 208 of the Company Act.

Article 20: Directors shall attend a board meeting in person. A director who is absent with apologies may assign another director to represent him in a board meeting by issuing a power of attorney specifying the scope of authorization. One on one representation shall apply.

A board meeting may be implemented by a conference call. Directors attending a board meeting by conference call are considered as present.

Article 21: The roles and responsibilities of a board are as follows: 1. Review and determine various rules for business operations. 2. Determine business orientation. 3. Review annual budgets. 4. Draw up profit distribution and profit compensation plans. 5. Draw up capital increase and reduction plans. 6. Determine the appointment and dismissal of important staff. 7. Implement resolutions made by the meeting of shareholders. 8. Discuss and determine external investments. 9. Assume other responsibilities under the law and assigned by the meeting of shareholders. Except for the above matters and matters to be resolved by the meeting of shareholders as specified by the Company Act, all matters shall be implemented with the board resolutions.

Article 22: A board meeting shall be held at least once per quarter. Unless the law otherwise requires, the chairperson shall convene a board meeting, specify the purpose of meeting, and notify all directors 7 days in advance. Provisional board meetings may be convened at any time in case of an emergency.

The meeting notice of the said meetings may be made by correspondence, by fax or electronically.

Article 23: The chairperson shall carry out the resolutions on all business affairs made by the board meeting. Unless the Company Act otherwise requires, resolutions shall be made by over half of Directors in a board meeting attended by over half of the Directors. The minutes, the sign-in list and power of attorney of a board meeting shall all be retained by this Company for reference and recording.

- Article 24: This Company establishes an audit committee with all Independent Directors in accordance with the Securities and Exchange Act. The organization, roles and responsibilities, rules of procedures and other duties of the audit committee shall be subject to the regulations promulgated by the securities competent authority.
- Article 25: The roles and responsibilities of supervisors under the Company Act, Securities and Exchange Act and other related laws and regulations shall apply mutatis mutandis to the audit committee as of the day of committee establishment.
- Article 26: This Company may establish other functional committees with articles of organization established by the board of director according to related laws and regulations.
- Article 27: This Company may purchase liability insurance for Directors and other important staff during their term through the Board of Directors.

Chapter 5. Managers and Employees

- Article 28: The appointment, dismissal and compensation of managers shall be subject to Article 29 of the Company Act. The Board of Directors shall resolve the responsibility and authority and their scope of managers subject to the functions and duties of individual departments.

Chapter 6 Accounting

- Article 29: The accounting year of this Company commences on January 1 and ends on December 31 each year. This Company shall prepare a final account report at the end of each accounting year.
- Article 30: At the end of each accounting year, the Board of Directors shall prepare the following reports and submit them to the meeting of shareholders for recognition.
1. Business Report.
 2. Financial statements.
 3. Proposals for profit distribution and deficit compensation.
- Article 31: The industry in which this Company operates has entered the mature period with keep competitions. When drawing up profit distribution proposals, the Board of Directors shall consider the capital expenditure and budget and capital needs in the future and measure the need to fulfill the capital needs with earnings before determining the percentage of capital reserve and profit distribution and the amount of dividends or bonuses distributed in cash.

Should there be net profit after the account is closed of every accounting year, apart from paying the business income tax and compensating for the deficits in previous years, the Company shall first appropriate ten per cent (10%) as the legal reserve, except when the accumulated amount of legal reserve equals the amount of the paid-up capital. Then, after appropriating or reversing the special reserve by law, the remaining amount will be the distributed earnings. By adding up the cumulative earnings of the previous years, the sum will be the cumulative distributable earnings. The dividend and bonuses of shareholders can be appropriated with the cumulative distributable earnings, with a minimum of 20% of distributable earnings of the year and the minimum cash dividend of 30% of the total amount appropriated for dividends and bonuses for the shareholders of the year. In addition to dividends, the Board of Directors shall draw up a proposal for profit distribution and submit it to the meeting of shareholders for resolution before distribution.

Article 32: This Company shall distribute a minimum of 2% of the profits in a year as compensation for employees and a minimum of 3% as compensation for Directors. However, cumulative deficits, if any, shall be compensated for first.

Compensation for employees can be distributed in the form of stocks or in cash and such employees may include employees of subsidiaries complying with the related requirements.

The status of annual profit in paragraph 1 refers to the profit after deducting the compensation for employees and Directors from the profit before tax in the year.

The distribution of compensation for employees and Directors shall be resolved by over half of Directors in a board meeting attended by over two thirds of all Directors and reported to the meeting of shareholders.

Chapter 7. Addenda

Article 33: The charter of organization and rules for business operations of this Company shall be determined by the Board of Directors separately.

Article 34: This Company may provide endorsements and guarantees for third parties for business purposes.

Article 35: Matters not provided for in these Articles of Incorporation shall be handled in accordance with the Company Act and other laws and regulations.
